Hello, everyone! Today is Week 2 of my world tour. I went to lots of the world's great places. Last week, I was in Germany. My plane landed in Berlin. It is the capital of Germany. It's more beautiful than my hometown in Alabama. I went to Museum Island first. There are five museums in a small area. They are really old. The oldest is almost 200 years old!

After Germany, I went to the island of Cyprus. It's not very far from Greece. I spent two days in the city of Paphos. It has many beautiful churches and castles. I saw many beautiful places in Germany and Cyprus.

Now I am in Egypt. It is very hot. It is much hotter than Germany. But the food is better. What did I see yesterday? I saw the famous pyramids! They were the best! I was so excited. That's all for today. Check back next week for more stories from my world tour!

16. Choose the one that I didn't go.

- ① Be
- ② Paphosrlin
- ③ Greece
- ④ Egypt

Luciano Pavarotti had a beautiful singing voice. He was one of the world's greatest singers. People loved him and his music. But it was not always this way. Pavarotti was the son of a baker. His family lived in a small apartment in Italy. He started singing at 9. He sang with his father at church. At that time, his future dream was to be a soccer player. But his mother said, "You must become a teacher, Luciano. Soccer players make no money!"

So Pavarotti became a teacher at 17. After two years, he took voice lessons. The next year, he won a singing contest. Pavarotti tried very hard. He wanted to be an opera singer. But this gave him much stress. His throat got sick, and he could not sing. He almost gave up singing. Then his throat became better. Pavarotti sang again.

17. Choose the one that is NOT correct.

- ① Pavarotti's father made bread.
- ② Pavarotti was a teacher.
- ③ Pavarotti lived in Italy.
- ④ At 9-year-old, Pavarotti wanted to be a soccer player.
